Mr. Casa Kim
SNAP

Dear Casa:

I wanted to take a moment to write to you about our experience presenting SNAP last spring. Although it has been several months since we had the pleasure of welcoming you to Lone Tree, I still have patrons approach me in the lobby, telling me how much they enjoyed the performance and how they continue to think about it.

We, too, as staff members for the Arts Center continue to think about your group and the show. From the time you and your team arrived, you were organized, flexible, and focused. Working alongside our technical team, you quickly identified ways to optimize the performance on our stage, and there was a great spirit of collaboration as our teams worked together.

As you can imagine, most of our audiences had no idea what to expect beyond the promotional videos and other marketing materials we shared with them. They thought that the show looked intriguing enough that they were willing to take a chance on it. And, after the performance ended, they came to our box office, our staff members, and our ushers to tell us all how funny, engrossing, and moving the show was. Many told us it was the most beautiful show they had seen at our theatre.

As a veteran producer, I watch our performances with a fairly critical eye, noting not only the artistic excellence and value of the show, but also the reaction of our audiences as they experience it. I found myself charmed and laughing along with our patrons in so many places. And I found myself holding my breath and marveling at the exquisite and moving illusions and pictures being created on our stage. SNAP is a feast of laughter, wonder, beauty and illusion, and it was a privilege to have the chance to present it to our audiences. The memory of the show will stay with many of us for a very long time to come.

Wishing you all the success moving forward – I am happy to share our experience with any other presenters who might be considering bringing SNAP to their theatres. I know their audiences will love it as ours did.

With thanks,

Lisa Rigsby Peterson
