

What Presenters are saying...

"In a time where 240 characters is the norm, Paul Stetler's Letters Aloud provides a refreshing evening of humor, reflection, and moving expressions tackling some of the most impactful parts of our lives. Paul and his team are incredibly easy to work with. My audience was engaged and deeply moved by the selection of letters chosen and the performances. 10/10 - would recommend."

~Kyle Rupert, Director, Jasper Community Arts

"Storytelling is an art form that is thousands of years old. Letters Aloud captures the exact reason why it's so important. This production draws from such a wide range of emotions that the audience is left crying and then laughing within a short window. Letters Aloud doesn't need an opulent set with extravagant costume changes. It creates a profound experience with the power of the mere words. Listening to some people's last thoughts while on this planet is an event no one will forget."

~Brandi Newton, Executive Director, Idaho Falls Arts Council

What audience members are saying...

"Last night's presentation was the best hour of thought-provoking entertainment I've had in a long time. I feel honored that you included me."

"This was the highlight of the month. What a wonderful performance by all. My heart just soared. Delightful! Provocative. Thank you so much."

"Terrific!!! Both the performance and the curation/writing. Timely, nuanced, entertaining. Thank you."

"Letters Aloud was nothing short of amazing. Thank you for such a thoughtful and relevant performance!"